PROFESSIONAL CAREER

For the past 21 years, I have practiced health care law in the areas of peer review and credentialing, and health care litigation. My current practice focuses on counseling medical staffs, medical groups, hospitals and other health care providers on credentialing, peer review, and quality assurance topics. In the course of my practice, I have served as lead counsel in numerous formal hearings prompted by credentialing and peer review recommendations and actions and litigation in state and federal court involving disputes over peer review actions, exclusive contracts, and retaliation claims.

In addition to my experience in peer review and credentialing, I practice health care litigation and have extensive experience representing hospitals, skilled nursing facilities, assisted living communities, and other health care providers in civil litigation involving professional negligence, elder abuse, wrongful death, breach of contract, fraud and tort claims, and in administrative proceedings involving citation appeals and enforcement actions brought by state and federal regulatory agencies. I have represented numerous clients in both jury and bench trials, and have mediated and settled many litigation matters before trial.

I regularly present on legal issues to gatherings of the California Association Medical Staff Services.
